MR. MINER FOR THE ASSEMBLY.

There is not a single republican in the second assembly district that will in the least doubt the wisdom of the convention in nominating Mr. Cyrus Miner for the assembly. He is one of those strong, practical business men, that command the respect of everbody who knows them. His integrity in business and his personal probity, are known by all the voters in the district. He has lived in Janesville many years, has firmly established himself in the confidence of his fellow citizens. His long-continued service as treasurer of the state agricultural society, and each year being elected by the unanimous consent of the society, gives us some idea of the manner of a man Mr. Miner is in business affairs Just as he has served the Wisconsin state agricultural society, will he represent the second assembly district without fault or blemish.

Take a man of Mr. Miner's splendid business ability and his popularity among thoughtful men, and he will wield considerable influence in the legislature. He has a large acquaintance among the representative men of the state, and has considerable knowledge of state affairs, and will be a leader among the members. In everything he does he will honor the place to which he will be elected, and is nothing will he disappoint the men who gave him the nomination nor betray the confidence of those who vote for him. He will be elected by a large majority; and he will wear well.

The Rochester, New York, Democrat gives the details of another case of a peculiarly aggravating kind where a Union soldier has been removed and an ex-rebel officer put in his place. Ira Benedict, who enlisted in Waterloo, Seneca county, New York, in 1861, and served through the war with conspicuous gallantry, has been in the United States mail service for twenty years and has lately been running between Richmond and White Sulphur Springs, Virginia. His wife writes to a relative in Rochester:

Ira has lost his position in the railway mail service. He was removed the first of the month and a confederate captain appointed in his place. They are trying to get rid of all the northern soldiers. They removed him without any cause. He has been to Washington for about a week to see what he could do, but he has been able to do nothing. They hate a Yankee soldier down here and will do everything they can against him.

There have been a good many such cases in the brief history of this administration. The whole bent of the Cleveland scheme has been to kick out Union soldiers and fill their places with either sympathizers or ex-confederates. But this can hardly create surprise. The south rules in this administration. It is the boss at the white house.

A large manufacturer of cloaks puts the case in this way: "As long as the tariff remains at anything like the present figures, we will do our manufacturing in this country, and pay our hands from $2 to $5 for making a cloak. If the tariff is reduced to a free trade basis, we will have our garments made in Berlin, where we can get the work done rom 50 cents to $1 each." If a man cannot understand the benefits of a protective tariff to the interests of this country with such an illustration as this before him, he is too much of an idiot to be allowed to vote.

The Chicago Times, democratic, notes the receipt of a dispatch from a man in New York, "whose business it is to keep as well posted as possible," and "who is not a republican," to the effect that, notwithstanding the big registration and all the money that is being spent, the result of the election will show that Harrison will carry New York state. He says it is simply astonishing to find the number of persons who are going to vote that ticket. This is not very encouraging for the democrats, but it is as much as anything that comes from New York.

Alexander Agar, of Agar, Hamblin & Co., New York, is one of a host of democrats who will not deposit a ballot for Grover Cleveland election day. Mr. Agar summed up his views as follows: "I have voted the democratic ticket all my life. I can see, however, that our country has adapted itself to the present tariff, that our prosperity has grown from it, and that any change will be demoralizing to the business interests of the country for a long time to come. I think that matters should stand as they are, and that is the whole story."

Commenting upon the shameless employment of federal officials in the democratic campaign in Indiana and the levying of blackmail "contributions" upon government clerks, the Springfield (Mass.) Republican says: "Thus is the civil service prostituted in the interests of bribery and corruption at the polls. This money is wanted for nothing else. No example has yet been made by the administration of some of these political buccaneers." But an example will be made of the buccaneers and the administration next week.

The administration has hardly treated Lord Sackville fairly. He wrote a democratic letter for a democratic administration, and fitly expressed the British sentiment in regard to Cleveland. He was honest and innocent, and for being too frank and too honest, he has been kicked out of Washington. The administration is too ungrateful.

In the city of Indianapolis a large number who in the past have taken active part in democratic meetings, are now to be seen at republican meetings, shouting for and working with the republican party. Every republican meeting shows fresh accessions from the democratic ranks.

The obituary of the democratic administration can be written in a very few lines next week: Too much hypocrisy; too much rebel; too much free trade; too much Cleveland; too much Mills, too much West; too many trusts; too many saloons; and too many false pretences.

Premier Mills is likely to be defeated in his own congressional district. If Texas don't want Mills, who, in heaven's name, does? The industries of the country certainly do not.

Mr. James Morgan is advertising himself as one of the biggest democratic blunders of the campaign. Instead of trying to elect himself he is advertising his dry goods.

Weber, the piano maker, has come out for Harrison. His pianos will be better than ever now, and will always be in tune with northern public sentiment.

After next Tuesday the democrats will feel like passing by without speaking. Speaking will but outrage their tender feelings.

RECENT EVENTS.

A FARMER of Santa Rosa, Cal., has raised a Japanese cucumber that measured three feet six inches in length.

A MAN who died at Flint, Mich., some time ago wrote his own funeral sermon, the hymns to be sung at his funeral, the words of consolation to his friends and the epitaph for his tombstone.

A LAKE steamer that was sold to a firm in Honduras lately started from Chicago for Belize. She went down the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, and then through the Gulf of Mexico to her destination.

A QUEER story is told of a Kansas City woman. She was traveling with her husband, and when the conductor came around after the fares he found the husband cold in death and his wife talking to him. She had been carrying on a conversation with a dead man for at least two hours.

A CITIZEN of Curtis, Fla., received a lot of toilet soap for his barber shop. In placing the cakes on the shelf he noticed that one of them was much heavier than well-conducted soap generally is. Cutting it open, he found a silver dollar of the vintage of 1853. He resolved to continue trading with the barber.

A REMARKABLE sand-storm prevailed at Fresno, Cal., one day recently from four to six o'clock in the afternoon. The heavens were so darkened that one could scarcely see across the street, a complete pall hung over the city and the gas had to be lighted, while doors and windows had to be shut to keep out the fine dust.

THE heaviest article which has ever been carried by an Erie canal-boat passed through Rochester lately en route from New York to Chicago. It was a block of granite eighteen feet square, two and one-half feet thick, and weighing fifty-five tons. The pebble was quarried in Maine and was brought to New York City on a steambarge.

NEAR Espanola, in the northwestern part of New Mexico, along the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, are situated on the top of steep mountains numerous cliff dwellings which were occupied hundreds of years ago by an Aztec people. On one of the highest points a Mexican lately managed to place a Cleveland and Thurman flag at the risk of his life.

WEST WON'T TALK.

The Late British Minister Refuses to Be Interviewed.

LATEST DEVELOPMENTS IN THE AFFAIR.

Opinions of London and American Journals on the President's Action in Dismissing the English Diplomat.

NOTHING TO SAY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The etiquette of diplomacy prevents Lord Sackville from furnishing a copy of Secretary Bayard's letter for publication. If permission is granted by the British foreign office it is understood that Lord Sackville is quite willing personally to hand the press the text of the communication.

A representative of the United Press saw Lord Sackville Wednesday night at the legation. He said that at the present time nothing could be said, he could not say even that any thing would be said. It is safe to predict, however, that just as soon as the elaborate cablegrams which have been sent to Lord Salisbury are responded to, Lord Sackville will make a statement for publication, so that he may clear himself from what he thinks are aspersions cast upon him by Secretary Bayard in his communication to the President. The atmosphere of the legation suggests restraint and a strong desire to say something to disperse the gloomy fog under which it rests.

There is naturally much speculation as to the probable course of Lord Sackville in the present embarrassing state of affairs. It was thought the move most agreeable to him would be immediate departure from Washington, but a gentleman in position to know, said he did not think Lord Sackville would be in any hurry to leave here. What Lord Sackville's position will be at home will depend chiefly upon his influence there, and the disposition of the British towards this Government. If the British Government determines to sustain him he will receive an appointment of equal rank to the one he retires from. He might be promoted to a higher mission. This would be regarded as intended to rebuke the action of this country.

The status of Minister West is said to be this: Lord Sackville is now regarded as an individual by the State Department, and he is at liberty to regulate his own movements. He can remain in Washington indefinitely, but he is in an official sense no more than the man who walks the streets. He is not nor will he be recognized in any sort of official capacity. The best authorities in the Department in regard to diplomatic etiquette concede that Minister West can consult his own pleasure and convenience in leaving. For all diplomatic negotiations the official of the legation next in rank to the Minister will now be recognized.

Secretary Herbert, who was lately assigned to the legation here, has become charge d'affaires ad interim and will remain in that capacity until relieved by the first Secretary, Mr. Edwards, or until the successor of Lord Sackville is appointed. Mr. Edwards is not expected here for some months, and the general impression is that Lord Sackville's successor will not be named for a still longer period.

The Star says.

"The action of the President in summarily notifying Lord Sackville that he would no longer be recognized as the English Minister here is a source of hearty exultation among the Democrats. The President's party friends maintain that he has turned the affair to great political account, and that his notice to the British Minister makes sure the support of the Irish-Americans."

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The Herald's editorial says that under Mr. Bayard's advice, Mr. Bayard's mismanagement and Mr. Bayard's scolding the British Minister to the reporters the President has been made ridiculous, and Lord Salisbury has, by mere silence, gained the advantage for his Government. The article concludes by advising Mr. Cleveland to get a new Secretary of State without delay. The Times says the incident is ended in a manner altogether creditable to the Administration.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—The News says:

"Lord Sackville made a mistake, and he is paying the penalty. Few people believe that he was actuated by any consideration save a stupid good nature when he wrote his remarkable letter to the mythical Murchison, nor do they expect that the incident can have any serious sequel at the polls next week. But, however innocent the British Minister's intentions, the Government of the United States could not neglect to take official cognizance of his action. There was a principle, far more important than the incident itself, at stake. No foreign diplomat can be permitted to interfere in our domestic politics."

The Tribune says:

"In requesting the recall of the representative in this country of Great Britain, President Cleveland shows a cowardice unworthy of the head of a great Nation, and which must win for him the contempt of every fair-minded American. Pretending to take offense at a private letter, written with the kindest feeling toward himself, Mr. Cleveland rushes to the front and, solely for the purpose of vote-getting, asks Her Majesty's Government to decapitate one whose plain purpose, as expressed in the correspondence and as since stated in printed interviews, was to do him a service. The average American is too strongly imbued with the spirit of fair play and too much of a believer in the doctrine of the standing by his friends not to resent such rank treachery and despicable cowardice. He will find that British-Americans by thousands—the Englishmen, Scotchmen, Canadians and Welshmen who have become naturalized citizens—will resent the insult so plainly put upon them."

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—A dispatch to the World from Toronto says that the Orangemen consider Lord Sackville's dismissal an act of grossest unfriendliness to Great Britain. They say the Orange order in the States is a strong one, and they have already urged their brethren to vote for Harrison.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The World's Boston dispatch says the Boston British-Americans consider the Sackville dismissal an unpardonable outrage. Mr. James Womyss, of the British-American Association, makes the statement that there are 100,000 British-American voters in the United States and all will vote against Mr. Cleveland.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The business men's conference committee of Cleveland and Thurman clubs met yesterday and adopted resolutions that the clubs "voicing the sentiments of 50,000 merchants and business men in this city enthusiastically commend the patriotic and courageous action of the President" in the Sackville matter.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Nov. 1.—John Sherman, in an interview touching the Sackville-West letter, said he thought the letter would do harm to the Democracy, inasmuch as it would convince people of the fact that England is friendly to the movement to break down the American system of protection. Any notion the President may take in the matter could have no effect either way. Senator Sherman expressed the belief that General Harrison would have a majority of 30 or 60 votes in the electoral college.

MONTREAL, Can., Nov. 1.—Sir John Macdonald was asked if there was any truth in the report that Sir Charles Tupper was likely to be appointed Minister at Washington. He replied: "Oh, no. The question is one of promotion in the diplomatic service. There are seniors waiting."

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The Press Association announces that Lord Sackville will come to England immediately on leave of absence; that he has important business to attend to in connection with his succession to the Sackville estates, and that he will not return to Washington. Press comment on the President's action is as follows:

The Daily News says Lord Sackville may be congratulated upon having involved his country in the most serious misunderstanding with the United States since the settlement of the Alabama claims question. The paper justifies President Cleveland's action in the fisheries matter, and since, but regrets Secretary Bayard's lack of courtesy toward Lord Sackville.

The Times strongly condemns the manner of Lord Sackville's dismissal.

The Standard says: "America has done to our Minister what British statesmanship would hesitate, but for grave cause, to do to the smallest state in the world."

The Daily Telegraph says: "America's step may amuse or offend some, but will not astonish anybody. It is quite intelligible. Lord Salisbury declined to act against the Minister who is more sinned against than sinning. Terror, inspired by the use the Republican wire pullers made of the letter, proved too great for instincts of chivalry and courage, which will return after the election. Elements farcical and factitious abound in the situation, which has no danger because it has no dignity."

Pall Mall Gazette: "How silly it all is. How much Americans will despise themselves for it when the election fever is over. Suppose Minister Phelps had written a private letter to some pseudo-American during the election in England saying that although Mr. Gladstone's party seemed to be more in accord with American principles, yet Lord Salisbury could be trusted to concede all the Irish needed. Does the most excited American imagine that we should have taken notice of his indiscretion?"

The St. James Gazette says: "As Lord Sackville is technically in the wrong, England can not resent the affront which Mr. Bayard has put upon it by declaring that he can not continue to hold communication with Lord Sackville. Englishmen can only pity American statesmen for the strange things they do in order to oblige caucuses."

The Globe: "Lord Sackville has been subjected to unmannerly treatment by both Mr. Bayard and President Cleveland. If the Minister comes back it will be simply because Mr. Cleveland's ambition to be elected President a second time soars far above the requirements of courtesy and good will."

SUCCESSFUL THIEVES.

Three Masked Men Attack a Mexican Central Train and Secure $2,000.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 1.—A shrewdly-planned and neatly-executed train-robbery was committed on the Mexican Central railroad at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning. The north-bound passenger train, consisting of an engine, five freight cars, baggage and express car and two passenger coaches had reached a point twelve miles this side of San Jose when three masked men crawled over the tender of the engine and with drawn revolvers compelled the engineer to stop the train. The robbers then uncoupled the two passenger cars and ran on with the rest of the train about six miles further where another stop was made. Here the thieves broke in the end door of the express car, but while they were doing so the messenger jumped out of the side door and escaped in the darkness, carrying away the key to his safe. The robbers were unable to open the safe and secured only two packages of silver coin amounting to $2,000. They next uncoupled the engine, and came on with that alone, running to within three miles of Paso Del Norte, where they abandoned the engine. Before leaving it they started it back down the road with a wide open throttle, and it ran about four miles, stopping for want of steam. The robbers are supposed to have come across the river, but there is no clue to their identity except that they are Americans. They cut the telegraph wires in several places, and the first news of the robbery was not received until four hours after it occurred.

The Neighboring Country Flooded.

MONTREAL, Can., Nov. 1.—A break has occurred in the River St. Pierre, which forms a portion of the Lachine canal at Cote St. Paul, about four miles from this city, and the neighboring country is flooded. The break is a serious one and further dampens all hope of the re-opening of the inland navigation by the St. Lawrence route this season.

Robbed of a Large Sum.

AKRON, O., Nov. 1.—Joseph Dickenhof, aged 70, while going through an unfrequented part of this city Wednesday evening was assaulted by two highwaymen and robbed of $7,300 that he carried in a valise. He was knocked down with a slingshot. The thieves escaped in the darkness, stealing a horse and buggy to get away. Officers are in pursuit.

Another Mud Run Victim.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 1.—Miss Katie Kennedy, of Scranton, aged 20 years, died Wednesday from injuries sustained in the Mud Run disaster. The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company is settling with the relatives of victims of the disaster on a basis of $13,500 for a head of a family and $1,500 for those under 17 years of age and unmarried.

THE POLITICAL POT.

The Fire Stirred by the Stump-Speaker Keeps It Boiling.

SECRETARY BAYARD AT BALTIMORE.

He Displays His Emotion at What He Terms the Degeneracy of American Politics as Shown by the Sackville Affair—Other Campaign Notes.

BAYARD MOVED TO TEARS.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 1.—Secretary-of-State Thomas F. Bayard delivered a speech Wednesday evening before a meeting that packed Oratorio Hall from stage to street—a speech, the best, his friends say, that Mr. Bayard ever made. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Jeffersonian Democratic Association and was presided over by General Stewart Brown. Secretary Bayard was greeted with tumultuous applause. He said, after a few introductory remarks:

"We are a part of a Nation of 65,000,000 free people, who, by the bounty of Providence, occupy the best part of a great continent. Great oceans are boundaries on either side, and the sun that shines above us strikes our territory and jurisdiction with its beneficent rays over thousands of miles, and every fruit and every treasure brought by light and heat into being are a part of our heritage. And have we not also a moral heritage. We are the inheritors of a Government purified in affliction, elevated by sorrow, strengthened by a success won through dire adversity. Thinking over it, how poor, how small seem the petty plans of personal ambition; how detestable the war of sections. It is to determine by our votes next Tuesday what shall be the rule of such a land as this. Each of us has the franchise of suffrage. It is our own, and we can not divest ourselves of the duty of exercising that privilege as worthy men. What sentiments should actuate our minds? What are the dividing lines in this election, and what are the variant propositions of those who seek to control this question? Into whose hands shall the National rule, the Executive power, pass? Who shall hold it? First, we say upon what principles, and next what men shall we trust to carry out those principles? Principles, not men, may be well, but principles and men are better. There are mighty powers to be exercised. Which shall it be: Peaceful policies or unsafe, warlike policies? Policies that are to bring peace with honor, or strife without it?"

Mr. Bayard then eulogized the candidates of the Democratic party. He said he did not think there was any quarter of the United States in which the name of Thurman could be mentioned without inspiring respect and affection. Of Mr. Cleveland he said that for the past four years he had never seen him when he thought his mind and heart were free from care for the best interests of the American people. He has had duty as his watchword, truth for his password and integrity as his countersign. Such has been his walk in this high office that public interest has been the predominating sentiment of his mind, its perfection the duty of his heart, to which he has lent every power naturally acquired within his control. And here I will say that when that man shall lay down the duty to which the people called him, no matter when, on the fourth of next March, or March 4, 1893, he will leave the office and its powers as pure, as free from corruption as the snow on the mountain top. He will leave that great office unshorn of any feature of its dignity or prerogative, and hand it back safe, sound and pure. Its dignities and its honors have been unimpaired and will be unimpaired when the day comes when the American people lose his presence as their Chief Magistrate."

"The task of the Administration for three years past was no holiday pastime. No primrose path was trod by the men who have stood around the President—his Cabinet. It was a hard, flinty hill to climb, but, thank God, the coming sun welcomes him now. I ask you, is this not a more perfect union to-day than under any President that ever sat in the chair? Has not the dark and once bloody line of sectionalism been wiped away by Cleveland's policy. Look everywhere, and see Americans arrayed with joined hands. Look in his Cabinet. We find there men touched by the same spirit of public duty that marks their chief man coming from the North, the South, the Middle States, all possessing fidelity and patriotic devotion. Look at your judiciary. Was it not time that the court of last resort, with its mighty jurisdiction, should find in it a man beloved by the Southern people? Not only beloved by the South, but honored, respected and trusted wherever the name of Lamar is heard. Men are found also in the diplomatic service who served gallantly under the stars and stripes, and others who served equally well under the Confederate flag, and it is a proof that a more perfect union has been established by the election of a Democratic President. Well may Hugh McCulloch, the ex-Republican Secretary of the Treasury, and none better than he, say that the welfare of the country has suffered nothing from Grover Cleveland. Well may the heart and the brain of Republicans led by James Russell Lowell, of Massachusetts, come out from the ranks of their party and range themselves on the Democratic side to support Grover Cleveland."

Mr. Bayard then went into a discussion of the tariff, taking for his text the reason given by Thomas Jefferson for public economy—that labor might be lightly burdened. To the claim made by the Republicans that they raise a high tariff on raw material for the protection of the American workmen, his answer was that they preceded his rivals in every market but that of the United States.

Mr. Bayard closed his speech with a reference to the Sackville-Murchison correspondence, and holding the Republicans responsible for what he called a trick, accusing that party of concocting the original letter, and said:

"And where are they now? To what have they descended? They have gone down into the garbage-pot. They have gone down either to promote a real crime or to simulate the execution of a crime, [and then trading it off on credulity and weakness, to take advantage and rejoice in the deception created by an attempted fraud. [Great applause.] There are some birds of prey that, it is said, will not taste food that is not tainted. There are political birds of prey that fatten and rejoice over the carcasses of dead and exposed slanders and falsehoods. This country has been witness in the last week of the interruption, for the time being only, of its relations with a foreign and friendly power. [Great applause.] It was made necessary. The act was not the act of the people of the United States, or of any one in sympathy with it, them or their interests. It was the wretched plot of a despairing politician [great applause] or a conspiracy of despairing politicians, to bring discredit on a class of our adopted citizens for the purpose of creating a false and unjust prejudice in the minds of another class of our adopted citizens. It was a slander on the one and a foul attempt to mislead the other. It can not be defended. No honest man can defend it. My friends, you can not divorce political morality from personal morality. [Cheers.] There are weapons that are admitted by civilized warfare, and there are weapons that are denied by civil warfare, and the man that would coin a lie to defeat a political enemy would poison the well in the time of war and slaughter his wife and children. Against this I call on the honest sentiment of every American citizen to resent the insult offered them. If the receiver of stolen goods is as bad as the thief, what can you say of men who in public speeches clap their hands and exult over a proof of their own political infamy. The whole civilized world shuddered with the excesses of the French revolution, for in those days, when men's passions were frenzied, prostitution was worshipped in the name of the goddess of reason. And are there men in this country so base and so poor that they welcome the thing that brings shame on the name of American politics?" [Great applause.]

At this point Mr. Bayard's emotions were so stirred that he was unable to proceed. His form trembled and the tears coursed down his cheeks. When he had composed himself, he continued: "Are these the men, is this the party to whom the welfare of this dear land is to be handed over? God forbid. Whatever our differences as to personal admirations may be, whatever our differences as to personal preferences may be, let us resolve that ours shall be a Government of honorable, self-respecting men. Let us establish, and let it be our first duty to establish such a tone, such a standard of morals, that no matter whether a man goes abroad or stays at home, he may say with just pride and gratitude: 'Thank God I am an American citizen.'"

When Mr. Bayard turned to resume his seat such a storm of applause broke forth that shook the very walls and continued for several minutes. The meeting closed with a speech by John K. Cowen, the eminent lawyer.

THURMAN IN HIS OWN STATE.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 1.—Judge Thurman left Wheeling Wednesday morning at 10:25 and reached Newark, O., at 1:55 p.m. He was immediately driven to the court-house, where he spoke of the Sackville letter, ridiculing the same, saying that a man with as much brains as are in a jay-bird's skull would not have been caught in such a trap as Lord Sackville was, and he also said that as "Jimmy was after Pat," Jimmy had thought he had a sort of patent-right machine for catching Pat, but that it did not work. Mr. Blaine had tried the same game in 1884, and that it did not work then and that it would not work now. Now what did Grover Cleveland do? He sent Lord Sackville his walking papers. One week ago Grover Cleveland was declared to be bending the knee to the British Government, and now that he has sent their Minister out of the country they are crying "Oh, what an impolite man this Grover Cleveland is, and how shamefully he has treated the British nation."

INGERSOLL ON THE STUMP.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 1.—Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll addressed a large audience at the Academy of Music Wednesday night in support of the Republican ticket. He said that but for the Republican party this Republic would not now have a piece on the map of the world. Free trade was desired by the Solid South. There is but $5.00 worth of raw material in a locomotive to $11.95 worth of labor. The Republicans wanted to protect this labor. The Colonel said he favored unrestricted immigration. There are but 60,000,000 people here. We could support ten times that number in the Mississippi valley alone. He condemned President Cleveland for vetoing pension bills, and intimated his opinion that if Mr. Cleveland had been a man of honor he would not have run for a second term after having called attention to the danger of allowing election for more than one term.

IS IT DUDLEY'S LETTER?

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 1.—The publication by the Sentinel of what purports to be a fac-simile type-written letter sent out by W. W. Dudley, treasurer of the National Republican Committee, giving instructions regarding the election in Indiana, is the political sensation of the hour here. The alleged letter advises the chairman of the county committees of this State to be vigilant in securing a fair election, but "to find out who has Democratic 'boodle' and steer the Democratic workers to them and make them pay big prices for their own men," and also to "divide the floaters into blocks of five, and put a trusted man with necessary funds in charge of these five and make him responsible that none get away and that all vote our ticket." Colonel Dudley in a telegram to the News declares the letter to be a forgery and threatens to prosecute any paper publishing the same. The Sentinel states that the original copy is in the possession of its editor and can be seen by any member of the Citizens' Committee of One Hundred or the Fair Election League, or by any officials who are charged with the administration of the law.

A RIOT AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—A Republican procession composed chiefly of colored men met a Democratic procession at Twenty-sixth street and Sixth avenue Wednesday and a riotous struggle ensued. Store windows were smashed and several persons were injured.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Two Lads at Pitsburgh Killed While Testing a Fire-Escape.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 1.—H. C. Wilson, of Zanesville, O., has for several days been testing a fire-escape attached to the front of the Monongahela House. All Tuesday and Wednesday people were descending on the escape from Wilson's room on the fifth floor in perfect safety. At 4:40 o'clock Wednesday afternoon three boys, James McCune, aged 14, John Duddy, aged 15, and Daliel Nagle, aged 14, were induced to tie the rope under their arms and swung out from the window. They had decended but a few feet when the rope parted close to the pulley, and the boys were dashed to the stone sidewalk seventy feet below. The crowd watching the accident were appalled. McCune and Duddy were almost instantly killed and Nagle fatally injured. Wilson was arrested and locked up. He was almost crazed by the occurrence.

Big Damages Claimed.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 1.—A special from Mansfield says that C. E. Foster and Frank L. Freeman, of Washington, D. C., have brought suit against W. M. Sturgis and the Barr Cash and Package Carrier Company for $75,000 for malicious libel. Suit has also been brought against the same parties for a like amount in the United States Court here on a similar charge by W. S. Lamson and Frank Means. The trouble grew out of the issuance of a circular containing alleged derogatory statements.

Cleveland Honored.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The Democratic National Committee has received a telegram from J. W. Young, Adjutant-General of the Tri-State Veterans' Association, dated Fort Wayne, Ind., informing them that President Cleveland had been elected an honorary member of that organization, which is composed of veterans of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. Governor Gray, of Indiana, is president, Governor Foraker, of Ohio, and Governor Alger, of Michigan, vice-presidents of the association.

Ordered to Hayti.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The acting Secretary of the Navy has detached Commander Allan D. Brown from duty at the Naval Academy and ordered him to the command of the steamship Kearsarge, now being repaired at Norfolk. She will be put in commission as soon as possible and sent to protect American interests in Hayti, which are said to have been endangered by the action of that Government in seizing the American steamer Haytien Republic.

Murdered by Negro Highwaymen.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 1.—On Sunday a gang of negroes in Mercer County waylaid four white travelers. They shot and killed two of them and robbed them of $600. The other two, named Henderson and Johnson, escaped to Bramwell, told the story and with a posse of fifty men went in pursuit. The search has so far been unsuccessful, the robbers hiding in the mountains near the Kentucky line.

THE Kingdom of Saxony has the reputation of presenting the largest percentage of suicides of any civilized State. The number last year was 1,104, or one to about every 3,000 of the population. This figure, however, is not as high as that reached in 1881, which was 1,248.

Mr. A. Nichols suffered from catarrh for years, He purchased a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm of us. He is now almost cured, and says you cannot recommend it too highly.—Evers Bros, Druggists, Independence, Iowa.

A SENSATION.
The people are getting crazy over the Moxie Nerve Food. All the nervous, weakly women are talking about it because it takes that terrible tired feeling away so quick and keeps it off on 3 cents worth of the syrup per day. It is an artificially digested nerve food only. The men are as bad, for it breaks up the effects of dissipation and overwork in a few hours and no stimulation or reaction. It is a newly discovered process of preparing the food used by the nerves, artificially, for the purpose of giving people their full complement of nerve power, when the stomach is not able to digest it for that purpose. Overworked people take enormous quantities of it. It contains neither medicine nor alcohol.

THE PARNELL CASE.

Proceedings Before the Commission of Inquiry.

CAPTAIN O'SHEA ON THE WITNESS STAND.

He Identifies Seven of the Letters Published by the "Times" as Containing Mr. Parnell's Signature — Other Points in the Testimony.

BAD FOR THE IRISH LEADER.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Captain O'Shea testified before the Parnell Commission yesterday, his evidence being admitted at this time because he is about to depart for Spain. Captain O'Shea said that he had been on good terms with Mr. Parnell until June, 1886, and had acted for Mr. Parnell in communicating with the Government. Witness gave the history of the Kilmainham treaty negotiations, and said that Mr. Parnell promised to suppress outrages if the Government would settle the arrears-of-rent question satisfactorily. He assured witnesses that he had the power to do this. The day after the Phœnix Park murders Mr. Parnell showed witness the anti-murder manifesto which it had been decided to issue. It was a mistake, said the witness, to say that Mr. Parnell was not in favor of the manifesto. Witness in a subsequent interview with Mr. Parnell warned him that Sheridan was a murderer and a concocter of murders, and the police could not allow him to remain in the country. Mr. Parnell replied that he did not communicate with Sheridan personally, but knew some one who did. He asked that a month be given him to communicate with Sheridan. Several letters were here shown to witness, who declared with certainty that the signature attached to them was that of Mr. Parnell.

Sir Charles Russell here asked the court to permit him to postpone the cross-examination of the witness. He said the latter part of O'Shea's evidence came upon him as a surprise, and it was impossible to do justice to his clients in the cross-examination without preparation. Justice Hannan declined to allow a postponement, and Sir Charles proceeded with his cross-examination.

Captain O'Shea, in reply to his questions, said that Mr. Buckle, editor of the Times, had asked Mr. Joseph Chamberlain to get him to give evidence. He did not agree to give evidence, however, until he had been subpœnaed by Mr. Parnell. Mr. Houston, the secretary of the Irish Loyal Union, saw him to take down in shorthand his statement for the Times. Mr. Houston told him it was a state secret how the Times got the letters. Mr. Chamberlain told him that Mr. Parnell accused him of procuring fac-simile letters and of dining with Mr. Buckle. Witness had heard Piggott and Callan mentioned as the men who had given the letters to the Times.

To further questions the witness replied that he saw the original of the fac simile of one of the Times' letters last week. He believed the writing was Mr. Parnell's. There were in existence compromising letters and documents, and it had been said that he was engaged in a conspiracy to get those letters; but he had never stabbed a man behind his back. He had been anxious to give evidence in order to clear himself and to refute the slanders which had been circulated by Mr. Parnell and his colleagues. Recurring to the Kilmainham jail treaty negotiations, witness said the chief conditions of the negotiations were that the league should be broken up if the Irish landlords would reduce their rents and receive compensation from the exchequer. Many of the memoranda which he had made were destroyed in 1883, when there was danger of a select committee of Parliament being appointed to inquire into the Kilmainham treaty, and it was intimated to him that the utmost reticence ought to be observed on the subject.

Sir Charles Russell—Intimated by whom?

The Witness—By Sir William Vernon Harcourt, who said it was the opinion of another person—namely, Mr. Gladstone.

Sir Charles Russell—Was it then you destroyed the memoranda?

Witness—Yes, certain memoranda which were in another box, and which included some of Mr. Chamberlain's letters escaped destruction. It was Mr. Gladstone's wishes that I should be as reticent as possible from motives of political expediency.

The fac-simile of the Times' letter was again handed to witness and he said that he was decidedly of the opinion that it was Mr. Parnell's writing. He had had numerous letters from Mr. Parnell of about the same date as the letter referred to and could not mistake the writing.

The witness stated that up to June, 1886, he believed in Parnell's honor and knew that he was opposed to outrages. Neither Sir Charles Russell nor Sir Richard Webster proceeded to inquire as to what caused him to disbelieve in Parnell's honor. Whatever was the cause of the rupture, the animus of the witness was apparent.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 1.—A well-known Irish attorney has received information from London that the Parnell Commission will appoint a sub-committee to take the testimony of Irish Nationalists in this country. The sub-committee will sit in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Denver. The gentleman expects to appear as one of the attorneys in the case.

Willing to Die for His Mother.

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—The Governor and council gave a hearing Wednesday on a number of petitions for a commutation of the death sentence of Mrs. Sarah J. Robinson, the wholesale murderess. Among the petitioners are nearly 100 clergymen and many prominent citizens. At the close of the hearing Mrs. Robinson's son Charley made a scene by appealing to the council to save his mother's life, and to let him die in her place. No decision was announced.

Americans Indignant.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—American residents of Paris are fiercely indignant over the reported intention of the State Department at Washington to recognize the right of foreign courts to administer the property of Americans abroad according to the law of the country in which the death occurs. Already arrangements are making to raise the question at the next session of Congress, and the promoters of the movement are hopeful of success in carrying their point.

Rebels Attack Suakin.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Advices from Suakin say that the rebels attacked that town, burning the zereba around the water fort on the left and shelling the fort. They were repulsed by a heavy fire from the ships and forts. General Grenfell and Colonel Settle have started from Cairo for Suakin with heavy reinforcements.

A New York Reporter Murdered.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Charles F. Adams, aged 19 years, a graduate of Harvard College, and a reporter on the Morning Journal, was found dead with his throat cut and his wrists hacked at the Bancroft House Wednesday night.

A Return to Duty.

This is always desirable, and the speedier it takes place the better. Doubly welcome is it in the case of those usually industrious little organs, the kidneys, which, when they go on a strike—so to speak—and drop work, seriously imperil health in more than one way. First and foremost, their inaction begets their disease, which is hydra-headed, including such dangerous maladies as Bright's disease and diabetes. Next, when inactive they fail to assist in removing from the blood impurities that beget rheumatism, gout and dropsy. Third, their inaction weakens the bladder. All this is preventable and remediable by the pleasanter promoter of organic action, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at once a tonic and regulator. This gently but effectually impels the kidneys to return to duty, and strengthens them and the bladder. Upon the bowels, stomach and liver it likewise exerts a regulating and invigorating influence, and it strengthens the system, and averts and remedies malaria and rheumatism.

The face and temper of the woman who takes New Style Vinegar Bitters have no wrinkles.

DRUNKENNESS

Or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless, and will effect a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. IT NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For sale by FRANK SHERER, Druggist, 12 W. Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis.

She Tried and Knows.

A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Ath-lo-pho-ros Plasters have ever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequaled.

404 Fulton St., Sandusky, O., Nov. 21, '87. The Athlophoros Plaster acted like magic. It is the best I ever tried and I have used many kinds. Our druggist said "plasters are all about the same" but I don't think so now. I sprained my arm and shoulder in July, and it has been painful since, but it does not pain me at all now. MRS. WILLIE MAGILL.

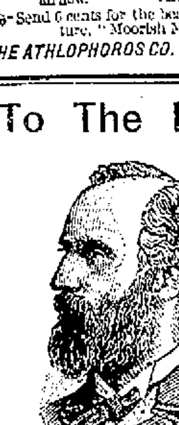
To The Ladies:



If James Morgan should be elected Governor of this State—as he probably will—his immense dry goods business won't suffer a single iota, as it will then be under the SOLE charge of his brother Thomas, who has been its financial manager ever since such business was started.

We hear that very many ladies throughout the State are using their influence with their male relatives and friends with a view to James Morgan's election. Will you do the same, reader!

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark. says: "Was down with abscess of lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began to take Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

ADVICE FOR WIVES.

How They Can Make Themselves Indispensable to Their Families.

Be gentle and firm with children.

Beware of the first disagreement.

Beware of meddlers and tale-bearers.

Learn to speak in a gentle tone of voice.

Learn to deny yourself and prefer others.

Avoid moods and pets and fits of sulkiness.

Never charge a bad motive, if a good one is conceivable.

Learn to govern yourselves and to be gentle and patient.

Learn to say kind and pleasant things whenever opportunity offers.

Never speak or act in anger until you have prayed over your words or acts.

Remember that, valuable as is the gift of speech, silence is often more valuable.

Never retort a sharp or angry word. It is the second word that makes the quarrel.

Study the characters of each and sympathize with all their troubles, however small.

Remember that you are married to a man, not to a god; be prepared for imperfections.

Do not neglect little things, if they can affect the comfort of others in the smallest degree.

Don't be always teasing him for money, and keep the household expenses well within your allowance.

Once in awhile let your husband have the last word; it will gratify him and be no particular loss to you.

Do not expect too much from others, but forbear and forgive, as you desire forbearance and forgiveness yourself.

Read something in the papers beside fashion notes and society columns; have some knowledge of what is going on in foreign countries.

Even if your husband should have no heart, he is sure to have a stomach, so be careful to lubricate the marriage yoke with well-cooked dinners.

Guard your tempers, especially in seasons of ill health, irritation and trouble, and soften them by prayers and a sense of your own shortcomings and errors.

And first be as kind and courteous to your husband as you were when he was your lover. Then you used to look up to him; do not now look down upon him.

Let him know more than you do once in awhile; it keeps up his self-respect, and you are none the worse for admitting that you are not actually infallible.

Respect your husband's relations, especially his mother—she is none the less his mother because she is your mother-in-law; she loved him before you did.

Be a companion to your husband, if he be a wise man; and if he is not, try to make him become your companion. Raise his standard; do not let him lower yours.

Love and Postage Stamps.

Berlin women have reached an extreme of folly by inventing this "postage stamp language." The stamp in the usual place, that is, on the top right-hand corner of the envelope, means, when upright, "I desire your friendship;" across, "Do you love me?" upside down, "Don't write again;" crooked, "Write at once." When the stamp is at the bottom corner on the right-hand it means, if upright, "Your love makes me happy." When it is on the left top corner it means, if upright, "I love you;" across, "My heart is another's;" upside down, "Good day, my darling." When it is on the bottom left-hand corner it means, upright, "Fidelity will be rewarded;" across, "Do not leave me alone in my sorrow;" upside down, "You have withstood all trials." When the stamp is on the same line as the surname of the address it means, if upright, "Accept my love;" across, "I long to see you;" upside down, "I am engaged."

King Alfred's Views.

Not long ago in a public-school examination an eccentric examiner demanded: "What views would King Alfred take of universal suffrage, the conscription, and printed books, if he were living now?" The ingenuous pupil wrote in answer: "If King Alfred were still alive he would be so old to take any interest in any thing."

WILLING TO CO-OPERATE.

The Locomotive Engineers Suggest a Compromise on the Proposed Federation Plan.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 1.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers spent the whole of Wednesday in discussing the reports of the committee in regard to the federation of the Locomotive Engineers with the Firemens', Brakemens' and Switchmens' brotherhoods. A compromise measure was introduced and, after a long discussion, was adopted by a majority of one vote. The plan as agreed upon is that while each brotherhood will maintain its individuality, no member of one brotherhood shall take the place of a member of another brotherhood in case of a strike. This is virtually a co-operative agreement, and notwithstanding the hard fight made against it, the opponents of the measure now acknowledge that it was the best action that could be taken under the present state of affairs.

MILTON.

—So far as we can ascertain there is not a Milton man who voted for Blaine four years ago that will support Cleveland, while some who voted for Grover, will vote for Harrison. There is one man in town who voted for Blaine who didn't know at last accounts what ticket he will support; but as he has had no reliable political principles for three years past, it will not be remarkable if he should finally decide to cast his lot in with the "aid society." The claim made in the democratic papers that there are a number in Milton who voted for Blaine that will drop into the Cleveland ranks next Tuesday, is all a humbug, for those named so far are men who voted four years ago for either Cleveland or St. John. We do know, however, of several former third party prohibitionists who will vote for Harrison instead of Fisk.

—Thursday was a magnificent October day.

—The rain of last week put the tobacco that was cured in case, and farmers were able to plough corn ground, but sod and stubble fields are still too dry

—Mrs. E. P. Healy and Walter, of Britt, Iowa who have been visiting here for a time, returned home last Friday.

—Superintendent Thom was visible to the naked eyes of Miltonians last week, and seemed to have some business on hand to attend to. He is liable to vote for Harrison and Hoard if he gets an opportunity.

—Rev. E. M. Dunn is erecting a new barn on his premises that will be a noticeable improvement.

—E. P. Hull, the Fort Atkinson marble man, was here last Thursday looking after work in his line.

—Mr. Smith, of Utter's Corners, who sold his farm to H. H. Harris, taking in exchange the Frank Wilbur place, has become a resident of Milton.

—The republicans say, "Ben.-Jam-in" and that's what he is going to do next Tuesday and don't you forget to remember the fact.

—C. C. Ball has gone into the employ of the Lowell Hardware Company, of Janesville.

—The best article in favor of a protective tariff that we have ever read appears in the October number of the American Magazine, and is from the pen of Enoc Ensley, of Tennessee, a southern democrat who cannot vote for free trade Cleveland.

—The committees who were appointed in the different school districts of Milton to secure names for membership in the republican club are hereby requested by the executive committee, to make it their especial business on election day to see to it that every republican voter goes to the polls and casts his ballot for the straight republican ticket. Every other republican in town is also appointed a committee of one to act in this capacity, and do not let it be said after election that any republican in Milton failed to vote.

Hon. L. B. Caswell will address the republicans of Milton and vicinity at P. O. H. hall, Milton Junction, on this Thursday evening, November 1st. A cordial invitation is extended to the members of all parties to come out and hear our present and future congressman. The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock sharp, to enable the speaker to return to his home on the train which leave at 9:18.

EMERALD GROVE.

—At the annual Bible society meeting last Sunday the officers elected were: President, James Plantz; vice president, J. L. Boynton; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Beesly.

—Hon. James Sutherland and T. W. Goldin will speak here Saturday evening, Nov. 3d.

—A ten pound boy arrived at the home of Rev. and Mrs. D. B. Jackson on Wednesday last.

—Will Jones, of the firm of Gillies & Jones, was in Chicago last week laying in a stock of fall and winter goods.

—A sister of George Zaneinger is quite sick, caused by blood poisoning. Dr. Mills is attending her.

—Miss Nellie Barlass left on Tuesday for a few weeks visit with friends and relatives at Elroy, Minneapolis and St Paul.

Haytians Capture a British Vessel.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—A cablegram from Port au Prince announces the capture by the Haytian man-of-war Toussaint L'Ouverture off Cape Haytien of the British schooner Alta, which left New York about the 19th inst. with a heavy cargo of arms and ammunition. The Alta cleared for Antwerp.

Sir John Opposes Annexation.

SHERBROOKE, Can., Nov. 1.—Sir John Macdonald in a speech at a banquet here last night said it would be ruinous for Canada to sever her relations with Great Britain and unite with the United States. He declared that the Canadian constitution was much superior to the American.

Destroyed by Fire.

BANGOR, Me., Nov. 1.—The large saw-mills at Milford, owned by the Bodwell Water Power Company and occupied by several lumber firms, were burned Wednesday evening. Loss, $50,000; insurance, $20,000. The fire was caused by a spark from a match while a lamp was being lighted.

A Mysterious Murder.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 1.—While Dolly Phillips, aged 20, was watching the Republican parade Tuesday night a man walked up to her and exclaiming: "There, take that," shot her dead. The murderer, whose name is said to be Galloway, escaped. The cause of the murder is a mystery.

Voters in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 1.—The registration returns from the entire State show that the total number of voters in Maryland is 240,588, of which 49,032 are negroes.

Revision Favored.

PARIS, Nov. 1.—The Parliamentary committee appointed to consider the question of a revision of the constitution has decided in favor of revision by a vote of 6 to 1.

NOT A PIMPLE ON HIM NOW.

Bad with Eczema. Hair all gone Scalp covered with eruptions. Thought his hair would never grow. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

I cannot say enough in praise of the Cuticura Remedies: My boy when one year of age, was so bad with eczema that he lost all of his hair. His scalp was covered with eruptions, which the doctor said was scald head and that his hair would never grow again. Despairing of a cure from physicians, I began to use the Cuticura Remedies, and I am happy to say, with the most perfect success. His hair is now splendid, and there is not a pimple on him. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies to mothers as the most speedy, economical and sure cure for all skin diseases of infants and children, and feel that every mother who has an afflicted child will thank me for so doing.

MRS. M. E. WOODSUM, Norway, Me.

A FEVER SORE EIGHT YEARS CURED.

I must extend to you the thanks of one of my customers, who has been cured by using the Cuticura Remedies, of an old sore, caused by a long spell of sickness or fever eight years ago. He was so bad he was fearful he would have to have his leg amputated, but is happy to say is now entirely well,—sound as a dollar. He requests me to use his name, which is H. H. Carson, merchant of this place.

SEVERE SCALP DISEASE CURED.

A few weeks ago my wife suffered very much from a cutaneous disease of the scalp, and received no relief from the various remedies she used until she tried Cuticura. The disease promptly yielded to this treatment, and in a short time she was entirely well. There has been no return of the disease, and Cuticura ranks No. 1 in our estimation for diseases of the skin.

Catharral Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed, to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional, instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00. Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston.

GRAND Republican Rally.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 2D.

AT LAPPIN'S HALL.

HON. L. B. CASWELL,

the republican candidate for congress, will address the people on the political issues of the day. Everybody is invited to hear him. Friday evening, November 2d.

BRIEFLETS.

—Grand jubilee of Rockford Republicans this evening.

—Cyrus Miner, for member of assembly, suits everybody, except the democrats.

—Everybody turn out and hear Hon. L. B. Caswell to-morrow evening at Lappin's hall.

—M. G. Jeffris and T. S. Nolan will address a republican meeting at Magnolia this evening.

—The nomination for the assembly, of Mr. Cyrus Miner, the well-known Main street shoe merchant, is well received.

—Mrs. Lewis Hunt, who has been visiting friends in this city for some time past, will leave for the east to-morrow.

—All laboring men are cordially invited to hear Hon. L. B. Caswell at Lappin's hall on to-morrow evening.

—There will be a republican rally at Orfordville this evening addressed by Ed. F. Carpenter and E. D. McGowan.

—Janesville Chapter No. 5, Royal Arch Masons, assemble in regular semi-monthly convocation this evening at Masonic hall.

—The wedding of Miss Christine Meyers to William Rabfeldt, will take place at the German Lutheran church to-morrow evening.

—Frank C. Hazelton, of Rockford, is the father of a bouncing girl baby, and his Janesville friends will tender hearty congratulations.

—Protection versus Free Trade—which shall it be? Two men after one job, or two jobs after one man. Hear Hon. L. B. Caswell to-morrow evening at Lappin's hall.

—Wm. S. Jeffris and bride are home from their eastern wedding trip. To-morrow evening a reception will be tendered them at the home of the grooms' parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Jeffris, fourth ward.

—Republicans will not forget to attend the republican meeting at Lappin's hall to-morrow (Friday) evening, and hear Hon. L. B. Caswell discuss the political issues of the day.

—The city hospital authorities are compelled to give notice that the rules in regard to visitors at the hospital will be enforced, and that no visitors will be received except on the regular days, Tuesdays and Fridays.

—There was an enthusiastic rally of republicans in the village of Hanover last evening. J. Boyd Jones and Ed. F. Carpenter were the speakers. The republicans of Hanover are united and solid for the republican ticket.

—B. B. Eldredge was considerably hurt about the face by a runaway this forenoon. His team turned too sharply while headed for the barn, and wrecked the buggy against a gate post. Mr. Eldredge was thrown to the ground and received several severe bruises.

—Names are sometimes missleading. J. B. Minor, the West Milwaukee street shoe dealer, has been getting credit among his friends all day to-day for being the republican assembly nominee, his name being confused with that of Mr. Cyrus Miner, the Main street shoe man and the treasurer of the state agricultural society.

—A very pleasant company of young people was that that made merry in the Armory last evening. The Quadrille club's Halloween party was certainly a success. Nearly fifty couples were on the floor and Johnny Smith's music was never received with more thorough appreciation. The Quadrille club parties are becoming more and more of a success with each month and Janesville young people would be loath to have them discontinued.

—The funeral of the late Frederick Brummund was held from the German Lutheran church at eleven o'clock this morning. There was a large attendance of friends of the deceased. The impressive services at the church were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Albrecht, at the conclusion of which the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment, the pall bearers being Messrs. John Splitter, August Fedles, August Wagleın Wm. Fedles, Wm. Waglein, and Louis Fedles.

—M. G. Jeffris, of this city, and Prof L. E. Gettle, of Edgerton, addressed a large meeting of republicans in the town hall at Indian Ford last evening. Reports from all along the line give cheering words for the success of the republican ticket, and Fulton will not be behind her sister towns in her majority for the republican candidates. This was one of the largest meetings of the campaign held outside the cities. There was a regular jam, and many were unable to get inside the building or near an open door or window. The good people of Indian Ford gave Mr. Jeffris a regular ovation, it being his second appearance in that village during the month of October. He spoke for two hours and a quarter, and at 11:15, when Mr. Jeffris proposed to quit speaking there was a general shout "go on, we want to hear you."

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 51 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with southwest wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 62 degrees above zero. Cloudy with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 25 and 61 degrees above zero.

IMPORTED BRITISH HORSES.

Galbraith Bros. Receive Two Additional Shipments.

In addition to the two hundred head of imported draft stallions already in hand, Galbraith Bros. have just received two other importations. Notwithstanding that both lots experienced a rough sea voyage, they all arrived in perfect condition and include quite a number of prize winners on the other side.

Among the best are Mottingham, winner of $500 premium at Bishop Auckland last spring; Lord Hawk, winner of $500 premium at Hetham; Sea Rover, winner of the Lauderdale premium of $500 in March last; Sergeant Major, who captured the same premium the previous year, and Endymion, winner of $500 in 1865, Lesmahagow premium of $500 in 1885, and Kilberry, $400 premium in 1887.

Taken in all this is probably the most valuable lot of draft horses that has ever landed in Janesville.

The Galbraiths have now on hand more prize winning draft stallions than any other three establishments in America and have converted the old Roger farm just outside the city limits into a breeding farm. They have erected five barns, the last one now completed being fifty feet wide by one hundred and fifty long, and with all the modern conveniences and improvements possible.

They expect to make another importation before Christmas, and will make an attractive exhibit at the great American horse show in Chicago, November 13th to 24th.

A USELESS PROMISE.

James Morgan Promises to Militate to the best Interests of the People.

The following document bearing the business address of James Morgan has been issued to the voters of the state:

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct., 1888.

MY DEAR SIR: As you are probably aware, my nomination as candidate for the office of governor of this state was entirely unsolicited on my part, in fact, it was not without considerable hesitation that I agreed to accept it. * *

Should I be elected to the position of chief executive, my earnest endeavor will be to conduct all matters which may come under my jurisdiction, in a strictly business manner, and as to militate to the best interests of the people at large. I am, my dear sir, faithfully yours.

JAMES MORGAN.

As we understand it and as we read Webster, militate means to be hostile to or inconsistent, to contend, to fight. So Mr. Morgan promises to be hostile to the best interests of the people at large. Mr. Morgan is very candid to say the least; but in our opinion the people of Wisconsin will entertain no fears of any hostility on the part of Mr. Morgan as governor.

HO, FOR ROCKFORD.

The Recorder of this morning goes out of its way to insult the business men of the city by stating in substance, that the meeting at Dr. Judd's office last evening was called for the purpose of snubbing the Invincibles and Wage-Workers. This sort of misrepresentation is in keeping with the practice of the democratic mouthpiece on River street.

The object of the meeting was to secure a large delegation for Rockford, and every republican in the city was invited to go and carry a cane; more than this, money was raised to hire the band. Every republican in the city who will go to Rockford to-night is invited to meet at the Invincibles armory at six o'clock sharp and join the procession.

THE CITY'S VOTERS.

Nearly Three Thousand Have Been Registered.

When the registry books closed for the last time last night nearly three thousand names had been placed on the list. The registry is the heaviest ever known in the city. The report from the various wards are as followows:

First ward	725
Second ward	571
Third ward	459
Fourth ward	783
Fifth ward	385
Total	2,918

"THE BEST IS GOOD ENOUGH."

The motto which governs the management of the Chicago & Northwestern railway in the construction of its roadway, the equipment and movement of its trains, and in all the minute details of provision for the comfort and safety of its patrons.

This motto is most appropriately displayed upon the dainty hand-painted souvenirs which tempt the patrons of its dining cars to epicurean indulgence.

The Souvenir Calendar for 1889, with its sprightly steel engraving, "Who's Afraid?" will find a welcome in every lady's boudoir, in every gentleman's office. Copies mailed to any address upon receipt of 25 cents in stamps or currency. Nine copies by express, prepaid, for two dollars. E. P. WILSON,

WANTED—A TAKER.

Democratic Betting in Janesville Willing to Seek Retirement.

Their Thousand Dollar Bet Taken, and Another Thousand Offered.

One thousand dollars that Harrison would be elected president, was floating around town this morning, looking for a taker. It belonged to Mr. Charles Bicknell, of Chicago, and Mr. Bicknell was making the Janesville democrats feel very weary.

Mr. Bicknell came to the city this morning with John Kline. He had heard that John R. Ryan had a thousand dollars to bet on Cleveland.

"I want some of that," he said quietly.

A meeting was arranged and at ten o'clock the Ryan money was put away in a safe with one thousand bollars of Mr Bicknell's beside it. Mr. Bicknell put up three hundred dollars on general results with James P. Worthington; and then started out on the street after more. He offered to put up a second thousand with several well known democrats who have been talking loudly about their anxiety to bet, but could find no takers, and took the train for Chicago at noon leaving the democratic betting fraternity of Janesville badly stirred up.

NO RAIN AT ROCKFORD.

An Immense Crowd of People in the City To-day.

A telephone message was received from Rockford this afternoon stating that there had been no rain in Rockford to-day; there is an immense crowd of people in the city, and that the procession will be held this evening until the arrival of the Janesville delegation.

Word comes from Beloit that a delegation of four hundred will go from Beloit.

Let every republican in Janesville who can, be at the depot this evening at 6:30 and participate in the excursion. The Bower City Band will accompany the Janesville delegation.

TWO MILLION READERS

are a great many to claim for one publication, but is undoubtedly true that as many read the Youth's Companion every week. It has a world-wide reputation, and is sent all over the globe where the English language is spoken or read. The reason for its large circulation is found in its exceptional value. Its influence upon grown boys and girls can hardly be overestimated. It is remembered affectionately by their parents who read it a generation ago.

We would call the attention of our readers to the special offers of the publishers, an opportunity that comes but once a year. Any new subscriber to the Companion who will send $1.75 at once, can have the paper free to January 1, 1889, and for a full year from that date. This offer includes four holiday numbers, for Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's and Easter, all the Illustrated weekly supplements, and the Annual Premium List with 500 illustrations. WANTED HER TO BE MERCIFUL.

Would Stand a Pounding But Objected to Jail.

He was a mild, meek little man who would weigh something under a hundred and ten. She, on the other hand, was tall, raw-boned and angular. As she strode through Milwaukee street in search of Marshal Hogan, her companion trotted along reluctantly a few steps behind. The two were evidently husband and wife.

"Now Maudy," he said appealingly, "what's the use of having me arrested, I wouldn't ha' thrown that griddle at you if you hadn't struck me first."

"Hush right up, now," was the grim response. "You are going to jail, and you might just as well make up your mind to it."

"Oh now, Maudy, what makes you talk so. You can take me home and lick me, if you want to; but those jail walls are so sorter clammy and disagreeable. Say, Maudy—"

"Shut up!"

Maudy was hard hearted, and started off toward the court house with her sorrowful-looking husband trotting along behind. She seemed thoroughly determined to have vengeance, but as no warrant has yet been served, there may have been a treaty of peace.

THE VACANT BISHOPRICS.

Wisconsin Episcopalians Looking for Leaders.

The Rev. William Daftor, of Marinette is spoken of by this morning's Sentinel as the probable successor of the late Bishop Brown, of the Fond du Lac Episcopal diocese. There is yet no clergyman conspicuously mentioned as the probable successor of Bishop Welles. The Milwaukee diocese will hold a special council for the election of a new bishop on December 12, while the Fond du Lac special council will take place next month.

"Nothing can be said now as to the action that the special council will take," said Dean Mallory, yesterday, "Many names are mentioned, but I know of none who could command a majority of the votes at the meeting of the council. The Rev. Dr. Knight, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, is among those spoken of as our probable future bishop. Then I also heard the names of the Rev. Mr. Davenport, of Cairo, Illinois, and of Prof. Gaylor, of Savannah, mentioned. It is for the council alone to decide the matter.

"At the council each congregation will be represented by four deputies, and the clergy, of course, will also be present. The one who gets a majority of the votes of both the clergy and laity present will be our next bishop, that is, provided his appointed by the bishops of the dioceses throughout the country."

FELLOWS.

—School in district No. 2, closed on Monday, October 29, with appropriate exercises. Miss Hadley is re-engaged to teach the winter term, beginning Dec. 3.

JANESVILLE ALL RIGHT.

Rockford Register: Four hundred republicans went to Janesville last evening from this city, and participated in the big demonstration there. The Flambeaux fifty strong were a leading feature of the parade as they have been in other places that they have visited. The Flambeaux headed the big procession and illuminated the town. From the enthusiasm displayed it is evident that "Janesville is all right" for republicanism.

Dyspepsia in its worst forms will yield to the use of Carter's Little Nerve Pills, aided by Carters's Little Liver Pills. They not only relieve present distress but strengthen the stomach and digestive apparatus.

NOTICE.

There will be a special meeting of the Janesville Commercial Travelers' Association at the Park Hotel on Saturday, November 3d at 7:30 p. m. As the subject of the annual banquet will be discussed at this meeting, it is the desire of the officers and entertainment committee that we have a full attendance.

Fraternally yours,
C. B. EVANS, President,
E. C. BURDICK, Secretary.

PORTER.

—Miss Blanche Morrison, daughter of Mr. O. Morrison, of Leyden, had the misfortune to fall and break one bone of her leg near the knee.

—Corn-husking is now in progress and an extra crop is reported. Some claim that the crop is so strong that many of the larger ears have to be loaded into the wagon endwise.

—The recent rains have helped to cure out tobacco, and a buyer with a fat pockbook and protection views, is needed to make our farmers happy.

AS IT AFFECTS FARMERS.

Ogden H. Fethers Discusses Tariff from the Farm Standpoint

Rice and Potato Bugs Protected: Potatoes, Corn and Wheat Are Not.

The democratic comment on republican recommendations for free alcohol in manufactures was effectually silenced by Ogden H. Fethers, Monday night. Mr. Fethers also discussed at considerable length the tariff question as it affects farmers.

In the course of his remarks he said:

In nearly all of the chemical and medical preparations, the prescriptions put up for you; in the varnishes that are made; in ether and chloroform and fine soaps, and in a very large number of articles that enter into our ordinary consumption; they all require alcohol in their manufacture. Now the government charges 90 cents a gallon tax on a gallon of alcohol, and it increases the cost to you very much on the supplies I have named; and while every civilized nation on earth taxes whisky and taxes beer to some extent, the United States, as I understand it, is the only civilized nation on the face of the earth that taxes alcohol used in the industrial arts. The Mills bill, however, utterly refuses to remove this tax. We propose by our platform and by the senate bill to reduce surplus about four million of dollars, and distribute it among the people by taking the tax off alcohol used in the industrial arts. Mr. Mills proposes to give twelve million of dollars to the wholesale and retail liquor dealers—do you get any of it? I don't know that any of us are in that business. (Applause.) But further, the Mills bill provides that every person who runs a distillery that has a capacity of 25 bushels a day or under—that is one hundred gallons—it runs about four gallons to the bushel—shall be relieved from all of the provisions of the United States statues, except the payment of the tax. That is, the present arrangement by which the collectors and inspectors and government revenue officers shall keep a surveillance over them and see that they make a faithful account of all the whiskey which they have distilled is all done away with, and the distiller is put upon his parol—that is all there is about it; and so the elegant gentleman who goes under the name of "moon-shiner" down south, and who has fought the revenue officers for the last twenty years; swore that he would not pay the government revenue tax, and that he would die first—and he very often has in defence of his theory—that is all done away with, and he is only required to be on hand at the end of each month or each quarter and walk into the office of the United States collector of the revenue and report the number of gallons he has made and pay the duties upon it. Will he? Not much. A man who has been a steady robber for twenty years is not going to be converted by the passage of a statute. I would as soon expect a man who had been robbing hen roosts for ten years to pay up because the legislature might say through a statute, "we will no longer have any punishment for robbing hen-roosts; we will simply put it down against the hen roost robber and have him pay it all up at once," and we will ask the hen and rooster after to come in some day when he has time and pay what he thinks it worth for the hens and roosters he has gobbled. (Laughter and applause.) With a little addendum clause to the statute that he was not to be hurried about it; he was to take his time, suit his own convenience—why I presume they would fairly flock in to pay, would'nt they? That is the Mills bill. That is the Mills bill upon the whisky provisions for moonshiners. What would be the result of it?

There would be scarcely a dollar collected in seven or eight states of the south on whisky. Where there is one illicit distiller now there will be a hundred after the government lock-out is withdrawn, if the Mills bill should become a law. But it will never become a law; it is blocked by the republican senate. [Applause.] No such crime against the workingmen of this country will ever be permitted to become a law while the republican party has the ascendency in the United States senate. [Applause.] But they say "we want free raw material." Do they? They say that they want free wool. Do they? They don't want any free sugar or free rice. They say they want free potatoes from the northern farmer, they want everything free that he raises, potatoes, rye, wheat, corn, beans—everything of that kind, but those things which they raise in the south, none of them are put upon the free list; but the potatoes of the northern farmer which are now protected by a tax of fifteen cents a bushel against the Canadian farmers potatoes, have been put upon the free list by these gentlemen; but they keep all the tax upon the articles that they raise themselves,—no trouble about that; but how do they protect the northern farmer? While putting potatoes on the free list they have put a little extra tariff upon paris green. (Laughter and applause.) It is the potato bug that is being protected, while he chews up the northern farmers' potatoes which they put on the free list. Beans are put upon the free list; but that most delightful little southern product, the festive peanut, has a cent a pound tariff upon it That is the way these gentlemen protected the solid south in the bill they have constructed for us. They say they want free wool; that if the tariff is taken off wool, that woolen factories will spring up, that the their profits will be greatly increased and that manufacturers can do better. Why, in all the early part of this campaign, and in the campaign of four years ago, we heard nothing but curses of the manufacturers of the country; nothing but body blows for them. Suddenly they turned around and the manufacturers are to be helped out. He is to have his raw material cheaper they say; and they promise that when he does, the farmer is going to get more for his wool. You have heard it from this platform this year, that the manufacturer would get his raw material cheaper and at the same time the farmer who sells it to him would get a higher price than he does now.

They say further that the manufacturer will sell his product for a larger price than he does now, and that when you come to buy it from him when it is made up you will get the manufactured article cheaper than you ever did before. Listen now, Raw material—the farmer is going to get more for that; the manufacturer will get more for his manufactured article than he did before; and you, when you come to buy it will get it for less than you ever did before. Seems strange, doesn't it? Two things higher, yet when you come to buy it at retail you are going to get it lower.

But there is one element that is not talked about in this beautiful promise—there is another factor—assuming all these things are true; say that the farmer gets more for his wool; say that the manufacturer when he sells gets more for his manufactured product; say that while he is getting more for it that you are buying it cheaper than you ever did before; there is another element that enters into it and which is not mentioned, and that fourth element is LABOR. What becomes of that? What becomes of that? Between the upper and nether mill-stone of this delusive and dreamlike policy that they have put out, labor will be crushed to earth, never to rise again in this our day.

"What, you coughing yet, my friend?" "Of course! my cold is no better." "Well, don't stand on the order of going, but go to the druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, quick." He went, and he was straightway made happy.

MILTON.

—Hon. Samuel Phelps Leland delivered his lecture on "Success" at the Seventh-Day Baptist church last Saturday evening. It was an instructive effort and seemed to please most of the audience. Mr. Leland's wife was with him and they were the guests of Rev. E. M. Dunn during their stay in town.

—A. C. Dunn, in the city office of the Omaha and Northwestern roads at Minneapolis, spent Sunday and Monday with his Milton relatives.

—The friends and neighbors of E. S. Babcock and family made them a surprise party last Tuesday evening, and left behind them some valuable presents as tokens of the friendship and esteem in which the host and hostess are held by Milton people.

—Mrs. Ransom, of Emerald Grove, mother of Mrs Evan Davis, has become a resident of the village, and is living in the house of her daughter on Madison avenue.

—J. N. Converse, of this place, and a son of C. N. Converse, has bought the Whitewater News. The News is democratic, and consequently J. N. is obliged to join the "gang," but he had better keep a good distance from his father until after election.

—Mrs. G. W. Sanborn, wife of Superintendent Sanborn, of the Southern California railroad, and her daughter, were in town this week, the guests of the Misses Rodgers. They are on their way to their California home.

—W. S. Alexander, general traffic manager of the Manitoba road, with headquarters at St. Paul, spent Sunday with his Milton relatives.

SHOPIERE.

—On Tuesday, October 23d, the members of the Methodist Episcopal church of Shopiere gave their new pastor a "pounding"; meat, cake, potatoes, apples, cabbages, beets, coffee, and other eatables as well as some silver were the missles used, and strange to say it didn't make the young preacher sore either. He is now ready to sing "Let them come some other night."

For burns, scalds and other wounds, Salvation Oil has proved itself to be the best remedy ever used. All druggists sell it for 25 cents a bottle.
